

ANIMALS

Cut me up
Bring me down
That's what you're all about
Brand new life has gone away

Kill me brutally but touch me sweet
You're craving the meat
Why'd you lay me to sleep?

Your knife tastes like metal
The worst life I could ever have
But you close your eyelids quicker
That way it's easier to forget

That you're a murderer
and your whole race
Is turning its heads away from this disgrace
Standing on the bodies of the killed
We'll never know the truths that our life lays
'Cause all we really care about is paper chase
Is this what freedom looks like to you?

If only our souls were pure and our intentions were good
I feel like we as a mankind have greatly misunderstood
What it means to be human
To share compassion with others
To not underestimate the powers of words
Of love of hate
We live in the space that we Ourselves create
Is it a place worth living in?
When the nature itself is giving in?
The skies could be crying but we don't hear a thing
We're too obsessed with the money we cashed in
We used to be animals just like them you and me
There was no right no wrong just a place to be

Only killing for food when necessary

And not out of hate or spite or beliefs please hear me out
When I say what does the world look like today?
The people in power are only getting stronger
I don't think we can hold on any longer
And yet we could have been so pure
So how come our brains which should make us feel the most secure
Have betrayed us and fed us with nonsense and lies
And suddenly everybody dies

Your knife tastes like metal
The worst life I could ever have
But you close your eyelids quicker
That way it's easier to forget

That you're a murderer
and your whole race
Is turning its heads away from this disgrace
Standing on the bodies of the killed
We'll never know the truths that our life lays
'Cause all we really care about is paper chase
Is this what freedom looks like to you?
